

WHY DOES A WOMAN LOSE INTEREST IN A MAN?

1

Controlling Attitude.

Men with controlling attitudes suffer from a superiority complex. They believe themselves superior and are inclined to control their women.

2

Bad Temper.

What real women crave is love and care from their men. These are those who prefer their partner's affection and stand over wealth and money.

3

Men with an evil temper can never enjoy the coquetry beauty of their women.

Women are delicate creatures. They are to love and care. But when a man starts dealing with his woman with a bad temper, she can't stand it.

4

Creation of Insecure Atmosphere.

When a woman is in a relationship somewhere in her inner self, she demands the guarantee of physical soothness, mental solace, and economic stability.

5

Too Much Tight Holding.

To grow is a natural phenomenon for men as well as for women. When it comes to women, men assume that they are overgrowing them, and thus both mess up with each other.

6

Over Pursuing.

When men meet women for the first time, they are always in a hurry to impress them. In no time, they pour themselves fully in front of their favorite women.

7

Suspicious Nature.

First, a woman tries to handle it by clarifying. But when she finds it becoming routine, she feels for herself and gradually loses interest in her ma

